The Client shall submit the Orders with Assistance in accordance with Section (C) hereof.
- 1.9 Rejection of an Order by the Bank. The Bank shall be entitled to reject an Order in case that:
- The Order fails to meet the requirements and lacks the particulars set forth under Article 7 of the General Conditions;

  - The Order is neither signed in the manner agreed upon for the relevant Account nor otherwise authorised in accordance with the agreed-upon method of the authorisation of Orders;
  - There is lack of liquid funds available in the Account.
- The liquid funds shall also include an authorised debit balance or agreed overdraft credit facility, however, not the funds in the Account equal to Bank's receivables in respect of the Client, which the Bank is entitled to set off.

In the case of the Republic of Cuba, the restriction applies to payments made in USD. The Bank shall be entitled to reject any Orders possibly submitted in these territories and nor to execute such transactions.

Due to the reasons mentioned in this Article of the Notice, the Bank shall further be entitled not to accept payments to be credited to the Client's Account or, alternatively, the time necessary for the processing of incoming payments may be considerably extended due to their detailed examination. The Client hereby acknowledges that for the reasons stated above, a payment may be returned or withheld by an intermediary bank.

- 1.13 If the Bank rejects an Order, it shall notify the Client of this fact. A fee may be charged for such notification as per the Tariff of Fees. If the Bank rejects an Order related to a Payment Account, it shall notify the Client within a deadline set for the execution of such an Order. The Bank shall notify the Client about the rejection of the Order in writing by post or via a direct banking service, unless agreed otherwise between the Bank and the Client. - 1.15 Crediting the funds based on the Unique Identifier. When crediting funds to an Account, the Bank shall follow the payee's Unique Identifier, without which an Order cannot be properly executed. The Bank shall not be obliged to verify whether the Unique Identifier fits the name of the account and/or payee's other data and particulars. The Bank shall credit the funds to the Account in accordance with the Unique Identifier even if it has found a discrepancy between the Unique Identifier and the name of the Account and/or payee's other data and particulars the Bank shall have available, except for cases where such a transaction would contravene law.<sup>2</sup>
- 1.16 The Bank shall credit the funds to the payee's Account (provided that a correct Unique Identifier has been stated in an Order) in the currency in which the payee's Account is kept, notwithstanding the transaction currency. If the currency in which the payee's Account is kept is different from the transaction currency, the Bank shall make a currency conversion.
- 1.17 In case that the funds cannot be credited due to an incorrect Unique Identifier, the Bank shall reject such a payment and send the funds back to the payer bank.
- 1.18 Bank's duty to inform. Upon request of the Qualified Client who at the same time is in the capacity of a payer, the Bank shall inform him/her, before a transaction is executed to the debit of the Qualified Client's account, about
- a maximum legal deadline for the execution of the given transaction,
  - a fee the Client shall be obliged to pay to the Bank for such a transaction.
- The provision under the above paragraph (a) shall not apply to Transactions outside EEA and transactions carried out in the currencies other than those of EEA member states.
- 1.19 Reducing a payment transaction amount. The Bank shall be entitled to deduct Bank's fees, charges, and other costs from an amount of any payment transaction, as well as fees, charges, and costs charged by other entities through whose agency the Bank executes the transaction. However, the Bank must not deduct any amounts from payments (payment transactions) made from the Client's Payment Account if the Client is a payer, except for Transactions outside EEA.

Article 2. Liability for Unauthorised or Erroneously Executed Payment Transactions

- 2.1 Liability for an unauthorised payment transaction. If any funds are debited from the Client's Payment Account as a result of an unauthorised payment transaction, the Bank shall be obliged to restore the balance in the relevant Payment Account to the original amount (as though no funds were debited) as soon as the Client has informed the Bank about the unauthorised payment transaction, however no later than on the next succeeding Business Day. If the balance in the relevant Payment Account cannot be restored, the Bank shall be obliged to refund to the Client the amount of such a payment transaction plus the remuneration already paid and lost interest. Should the Bank find the Client's complaint unjustified, it shall be entitled to deduct from the Account kept by the Bank the amount of the restored transaction, including any interest accrued thereon, if applicable, even if a debit balance may occur in the Account as a result of such deduction. If the deduction as per the foregoing sentence is not executed, the Bank shall be entitled to claim such a debt from the Client in accordance with law.

NOTICE ON THE PAYMENT SYSTEM

- 2.2 In case of an unauthorised payment transaction, the Client shall bear the full liability for any damage resulting from a use of a lost or stolen Payment Instrument, or misuse thereof, incurred before the Client has notified the Bank of the loss, theft, misuse<sup>3</sup> or unauthorised use of the Payment Instrument in accordance with the Contract, unless specified otherwise below. Further, the Client shall bear the full damage caused by an unauthorised payment transaction resulting from his/her fraudulent activities or a breach of the duty to use the Payment Instrument as required by the Contract.
- 2.3 Unauthorised and erroneously executed payment transactions in Qualified Clients' Payment Accounts. The provisions of the following Articles 2.4 to 2.16 hereof shall apply to the Qualified Clients and payment transactions associated with their Payment Accounts and in case of any discrepancy shall prevail over the provisions of Articles 2.1 and 2.2 hereof and Articles 29.1 and 29.2 of the General Conditions.
- 2.4 The Qualified Client shall bear any damage resulting from any unauthorised payment transactions due to a use of a lost or stolen Payment Instrument, or misuse thereof (if he/she has failed to protect his/her personalised security tools, e.g., the PIN code), up to the total amount of EUR 50 (the amount shall be converted using the Czech National Bank rate as at the date the Bank shall be notified of the loss, theft or unauthorised use of the Payment Instrument). The Qualified Client shall bear the full loss resulting from any unauthorised payment transactions in case that the loss of the Payment Instrument (i) has been caused by his/her fraudulent activities or by an intentional or flagrantly neglectful failure to use the Payment Instrument in accordance with the relevant Contract, or (ii) if he/she has failed to meet his/her duty to notify the Bank of the loss, theft, misuse or unauthorised use of the Payment Instrument without any unnecessary delay after ascertaining such fact. The Qualified Client shall not bear the loss resulting from unauthorised payment transactions, if such loss is incurred after the Qualified Client has notified the Bank of the loss, theft, misuse or unauthorised use of the Payment Instrument, or if the Bank has failed to ensure that he/she can report the loss, theft, misuse or unauthorised use of the Payment Instrument whenever necessary, except for cases where the Qualified Client has acted fraudulently.
- 2.5 If the Qualified Client is a payer, the Bank shall be liable to the Qualified Client for any erroneously executed payment transaction, unless the Bank clearly demonstrates that an amount of the erroneously executed payment transaction has been duly and timely credited to an account of a payee's Payment Services provider. If the Qualified Client is a payee, the Bank shall only be liable to the Qualified Client for an erroneously executed payment transaction if a payer's Payment Services provider is not liable to the payer for such a payment transaction.
- 2.6 If the Bank, being a payer's Payment Services provider, is liable to the Qualified Client, who is a payer at the same time, for an erroneously executed payment transaction and the Client informs the Bank that he/she does not insist that the payment transaction be executed, the Bank shall be obliged to restore forthwith the balance in the Client's relevant Account to the original amount (as though the erroneous payment transaction were not executed) or, if the balance in the relevant Account cannot be restored, make an amount of such an erroneous payment transaction, plus the remuneration already paid and lost interest, available to the Client. This provision shall not be applied in case that the Bank clearly demonstrates that the amount in question was credited to an account of a payee's Payment Services provider before the Qualified Client has informed the Bank that he/she would not insist that the Order be executed.
- 2.7 If the Bank, being a payer's Payment Services provider, is liable to the Qualified Client, who is a payer at the same time, for an erroneously executed payment transaction and the Client fails to inform the Bank that he/she does not insist that the payment transaction be executed, the Bank shall be obliged to ensure as soon as possible that the amount of the erroneously executed payment transaction be credited to an account of a payee's Payment Services provider.
- 2.8 If the Order for a payment transaction related to the Qualified Client's Payment Account is forwarded to the Bank by the Payment Initiation Service provider and the transaction is executed contrary to the Order submitted by the Qualified Client to the Payment Initiation Service provider, such a transaction shall be considered an erroneously executed payment transaction, even if executed in accordance with the Order accepted within the meaning of Payments Act. In that case, the Bank shall have the obligations to the Client expressly set out in Articles 2.6 and 2.7 hereof.
- 2.9 If the Bank, being a payee's Payment Services provider, is liable to the Qualified Client, who is a payee at the same time, for an erroneously executed payment transaction, the Bank shall be obliged to restore forthwith the balance in the Client's relevant Account to the original amount (as though the erroneous payment transaction were not executed) or, if the balance in the relevant Account cannot be restored, make an amount of such an erroneous payment transaction available to the Client.
- 2.10 The provisions of Articles 2.5 to 2.8 hereof shall not apply to payment transactions resulting from a payment order submitted by a payee or by a payer through a payee, in case that the Bank, being the payee's Payment Services provider, has failed to perform its duty and has not forwarded the Order to the payer's Payment Services provider duly and timely. In case of a Qualified Client who is the payee at the same time, the Bank shall demonstrate upon Client's request that it has performed the aforesaid duty.
- 2.11 If a payment transaction instigated by the Qualified Client has been executed incorrectly or erroneously, the Bank shall be obliged, upon the Client's request, to make reasonably diligent effort to trace back such a payment transaction and inform the Client of the result of the investigation.
- 2.12 Refunding an authorised payment transaction. In case of an authorised payment transaction resulting from a payment order submitted by a payee or by a payer through a payee, the Qualified Client shall be obliged to demand, within 8 weeks from the moment the funds have been debited from his/her Account, that the amount of the transaction be refunded to the Account on the condition that (i) a specific amount of the payment transaction has not been detailed at the moment of its authorisation and, at the same time, (ii) the amount of the payment transaction is in excess of an amount the Qualified Client might have reasonably expected with regard to all circumstances. However, the Qualified Client shall not be entitled to demand that the amount of the authorised payment transaction be refunded if the Client has given his/her consent regarding the payment transaction directly to the Bank and the Bank or a payee have provided the Client with the information of the specific amount of the payment transaction (or have made such information available to him/her) at least 4 weeks before the Moment of Effectiveness of the aforesaid Order.
- 2.13 For the purpose of the foregoing Article 2.12 it is understood that the sentence "the amount of the payment transaction is in excess of an amount the Qualified Client might have reasonably expected with regard to all circumstances" shall not include in its meaning an amount that is lower than or equal to the upper limit set forth in the Contract for such payment transactions. In addition to this, the Client cannot make a complaint over unexpected fluctuations in Exchange Rates.
- 2.14 The Qualified Client shall be obliged to provide to the Bank, along with the request for the refund as per Article 2.12 hereof, information and documents substantiating that the prerequisites for the refund of the amount of the payment transaction set forth in Article 2.12 have been met, including the indication of the moment at which he/she has learnt about the specific amount of such a payment transaction. Until the Client performs the aforesaid obligation, the ten-day period required by the law for the refunding by the Bank of the amount of the payment transaction shall not commence.
- 2.15 The provisions of Articles 2.6 to 2.14 hereof shall not apply to Transactions outside EEA.
- 2.16 Joint provisions on Bank's liability with respect to executing payment transactions. The Bank shall be obliged to demonstrate to the Qualified Client that it has followed the procedure that makes it possible to verify that an Order has been submitted, the relevant payment transaction has been authorised, correctly documented and entered in the books, and it has not been affected by technical problems or other flaws, in the event that the Qualified Client claims that he/she has not authorised such a payment transaction or that the payment transaction has not been executed correctly.

<sup>3</sup> The term "misuse" of a Payment Instrument, password, PIN etc. shall also apply to cases where such an Instrument is used without Client's authorisation.

- 2.17 The fact that the Bank shall be held liable for an unauthorised or erroneously executed payment transaction shall not exempt the Bank from liability for any damage or unjust enrichment resulting from such an unauthorised or erroneously executed payment transaction. However, any compensation provided by the Bank shall be considered part of a potential compensation for any damage or unjust enrichment.
- 2.18 The Bank shall neither be liable to the Client for an unauthorised or erroneously executed payment transaction nor for a possible failure to meet required deadlines for the execution of a payment transaction, if it has been prevented from performing its obligation by unusual or unforeseeable circumstances beyond Bank's control, whose consequences the Bank could not avert.

If the cash is to be paid out in a foreign currency and the Bank cannot pay out a required amount in full or in part due to lack of legal tender with a required nominal value, or does not deal in such a legal tender, the Bank shall be entitled to pay out cash up/down to the nominal values available, or pay it out in another foreign currency or in CZK, unless agreed otherwise with the Client.

If a cash deposit is deleted manually immediately after it has been completed, the cash can be repaid in banknotes whose nominal value is different from that of the deposited ones.

3.5 Required particulars of a cash payment Order. The Bank shall only execute cash payments based on oral or written Orders submitted by the Client, unless agreed otherwise with the Client. When submitting a written Order, the Client shall be obliged to fill in, in the submitted payment order form, any and all data required for the purpose of identification and control of the Client in addition to the particulars referred to under Article 1.7 hereof, and submit other documents proving the origin of the deposited funds, in accordance with applicable law<sup>4</sup>. If the Client fails to provide the relevant documents proving the origin of the funds deposited or withdrawn in cash at the request of the Bank, the latter shall be entitled to refuse such deposit or withdrawal of the funds. The Bank shall be entitled to ask the Client to sign the Order according to his/her Specimen Signature even in case of depositing any funds. The Client shall be obliged to confirm the correctness of the filled-in data by his/her signature on the payment transaction slip. Failing this, the Bank shall be entitled to reject the Order.

The Bank shall be entitled to pay out the funds to the Client even if the above deadlines are not adhered to, provided that technical and operational circumstances enable such withdrawal.

The same deadlines shall also apply if a specific combination of banknotes and coins up to the aggregate amount CZK 100 000 (inclusive) or an equivalent in a foreign currency is requested. In case that the Bank does not have available such a combination of face values, it shall be

If the Client fails to designate the manner of payment of the fees (i.e., choose the charge code), the given Order shall be processed as if the "SHA" charge code were chosen. As for the Transactions within EEA executed in currencies other than EEA currencies, the Client hereby acknowledges that the Bank shall charge him/her with a fee as per the Tariff of Fees and, at the same time, the payee's bank and/or intermediary banks may charge the payee with a fee set forth by these banks, or the transferred amount may be reduced by the amount of the aforesaid fees.

If the Client determines that fees related to the transfer should be shared by the Client and the payee ("SHA"), he/she hereby acknowledges that the Bank shall charge him/her with a fee as per the Tariff of Fees and, at the same time, the payee's bank and/or intermediary banks may charge the payee with a fee set forth by these banks, or the transferred amount may be reduced by the amount of the aforesaid fees. - 23.8 The Bank shall choose, solely at its discretion, a foreign bank that shall process an Order for a payment made abroad, unless agreed upon otherwise with the Client. If the recipient bank or the intermediary bank fails to settle the payment from abroad and sends back to the Bank the amount of the payment less any costs incurred by itself, the Bank shall credit the reduced amount of the payment back to the Client's Account.

Article 24. Standing Payment Order (Abroad)

If the conditions set above for a particular payment are not met by such a Business Day, the Bank shall reject to execute the payment.
- 24.4 Cancellation by the Bank of a standing payment Order abroad. The Bank shall be entitled to cancel a standing payment Order abroad if no new standing payment Order abroad is processed by the Bank within 18 months from the processing of the last previous standing payment Order for abroad.

If the payment instructions indicate that fees related to the transfer should be paid by the payee/creditor – beneficiary of the payment ("BEN") or shared by the payer/debtor and the Client ("SLEV" or "SHA"), the Bank shall charge the fees as per the Tariff of Fees and, at the same time, the payer's bank and/or intermediary banks may decrease the amount of the payment by related fees. If it is specified in the payment instruction received by the Bank that the fees related to the transfer should be paid by the payer (order party) ("OUR"), the fees related to the transfer shall be paid by the payer.

- 40.2 Registering into the 'Pay a Contact' service. The Client can get registered via Mobilní banka internet banking. The Client can only register a telephone number with the area code +420 or +421, which the Bank shall keep as Client's contractual contact details. It is only possible to pair a current account kept in CZK to a registered contact of a natural person. Upon the completion of the registration, the Bank shall establish a profile in the Czech National Bank's register containing the registered telephone number, the number of the paired bank account, and the name and surname of the account holder. The telephone number so registered shall serve as the Client's additional Unique Identifier for receiving payments into your paired current account.
- Only a single telephone number may be paired with a single current account at any given time as part of the registration into the 'Pay a Contact' service.
- Registering into the 'Pay a Contact' service is not a general consent by the registered payee to make non-cash payments of monetary claims through this service. The manner of performance of obligations between the payer and the payee is subject to the mutual agreement of the contracting parties.
- 40.3 Verification of registered data. The Bank is entitled to contact the Client at any time to verify your possession of the telephone number and the validity of your registered details related to the 'Pay a Contact' service. The Bank shall carry out such verification at least once a year. If the Client fails to confirm possession of the telephone number and registered details upon the request and within the deadline and in the manner specified by the Bank, the latter shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of this Article hereof applicable to the termination of the 'Pay a Contact' service.
- If the Client suspects any misuse of his/her contact details used for registering into the 'Pay a Contact' service, in particular to another account or a third party account, he/she is obliged to inform the Bank of such misuse without any delay.
- 40.4 'Pay a Contact' outgoing payment. Unless stated otherwise hereinafter, the provisions applicable to Orders for one-off CZK payments shall apply to the 'Pay a Contact' outgoing payment.

The Bank shall process the Pay a Contact payment immediately as an Order for a one-off CZK payment, preferably as an Instant Payment. If there is no account attached to the telephone number specified by the Client – payer in the Order, the Bank shall reject the Order.
- Unless the Bank allows the Client to submit an Order for an outgoing Pay a Contact payment in a different amount, the limit for outgoing Pay a Contact payments shall be CZK 1 at a minimum and CZK 5,000 at a maximum. The Bank may change the limit and the Client shall always find out the amount of the limit when submitting an Order via internet banking. Before authorising the submitted Pay a Contact payment, the Client shall be obliged to check the payment details entered, in particular the telephone number (payee's Unique Identifier) and the name of the account holder (i.e. the intended beneficiary), which the Bank shall display to the Client according to the current status of the profile in the RAMOS register. If the intended beneficiary does not match the name and surname of the account holder that the Bank shall display, the Client undertakes not to execute the Pay a Contact payment and check with the intended beneficiary his/her payment details and the status of his/her registration (in particular whether the telephone number he/she has registered into the 'Pay a Contact' service is that number the Client has filled in, and whether the number is paired with an account held in his/her own name).
- 40.5 'Pay a Contact' usage flag. The Pay a Contact service includes a usage flag. The flag notifies the counterparty who has the payee's telephone number in his/her telephone directory that a Pay a Contact payment can be made to that telephone number. This information may be available in the applications of payment institutions that have joined the Pay a Contact scheme.
- 40.6 Displaying registered data to payers. From the point of view of personal data processing and as a result of registering the Client-payee in the 'Pay a Contact' service, the name of the payee (account holder) is displayed to the payer when the Client-payee's telephone number is entered before making the payment.
- If, in accordance with Article 40.3 hereof, the Client fails to confirm his/her possession of the registered telephone number and/or other verified information in the profile pursuant to the Bank's request (generally via internet banking within 7 calendar days), the registration into the 'Pay a Contact' service shall terminate upon the expiration of two months from the expiration of the deadline specified in the Bank's request.
- The Bank may cancel the Client's registration into the Service with immediate effect if it suspect that Client's telephone number was misused during the registration into the 'Pay a Contact' service. The Bank shall notify the Client of such cancellation via the internet banking mailbox, by post at the Contact Address, or in a similar manner.
